

Chief's Message

Building Our Future

2018 was a year of significant growth for the Sumter Police Department. Most notable was the completion of an ambitious 4 year project to design and construct a new Public Safety Complex. Housing police, fire, and emergency communications for both city and county, the project demonstrates the strong partnership and trust that exists between or community and its elected leadership.

Strong partnerships and trust are the core of effective law enforcement in any community. As an agency, we are committed to creating an open culture of inclusiveness that promotes a greater awareness of diversity and a stronger spirit of trust and cooperation.

Trust requires consistency and is built through small interactions over time. We value your trust and prioritize respect, fairness, and honesty every day and in every interaction. Our 2018 Annual Report is more than a re-cap of the past year. It is a tangible way to illustrate

"Strong partnerships and trust are the core of effective law enforcement in any community."

our philosophies and our commitment to the well-being of our community.

We will face many challenges and opportunities in the new year. With your continued support, together we will sustain and build healthy police/community partnerships now and in the future.

We don't just serve and protect the community...

The passion to serve others doesn't end after each shift. Our officers are intertwined in our community, giving back and helping to make Sumter a better and more vibrant place to live.

we are a part of it.

Shared values and a common purpose connect us to the community in roles that reach beyond the badge. Officers like Cedric Kirkman coach and guide youth in our community.

our impact

Of all the ways success can be measured, the most important metric is also the most fundamental. It's the people and the community we serve.

amien, like most children, was scared when he arrived at the hospital for treatment of a chronic illness. Officers heard the 4 year old crying and stopped in to offer reassurance. The boy was all smiles after visiting with our officers and receiving a toy police car.

ot, one of our first CheckMate participants, credits the program with enabling her to stay in her home and live independently. Children of the retired Postmistress are grateful knowing an officer visits regularly to check on their mother.

ur 41 Neighborhood Watch groups are as varied and diverse as the communities they represent. The information, training, support and resources they receive however are synergistic.

Working together, we are creating safer communities.

the power of

solid partnership with Sumter School District provides opportunities for officers to regularly engage with students.

Through interactive programs like Prom Promise, students get a firsthand experience of the dangers and consequences of impaired driving. Empathizing with a wider group strengthens community ties and often removes barriers that seem unsurmountable.

together we can do more

Within the department, divisions and shifts often adopt programs and individuals needing assistance.

Captain Mike Evans graduated from the Advanced Force Science Specialist Course in August, certifying him as 1 of fewer than 100 persons worldwide qualified to analyze officer response in high stress, use of force situations.

Evans's training and expertise will assist in identifying behavioral science elements involved in use of force encounters, and developing SPD officer training based on modern research and principles.

building strong LEADERSHIP

Lieutenant Robert Singleton graduated in July from the Southern Police Institute's 81st Session of the Command Officer's Development program.

The intensive 400-hour course, which was held in Florida, is a continuing education course for law enforcement managers.

a focus on the FUTURE

Relationships matter. Individual connections shape our ideas and our actions.

Mentoring encourages, empowers, and supports our youth in becoming innovative leaders of tomorrow.

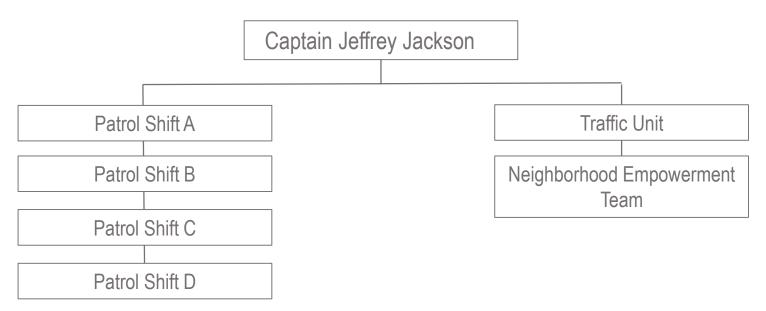

Positive and consistent youth interaction is a priority for Sumter Police Department.

Uniform Services Division

ORGANIZATIONAL STRUCTURE

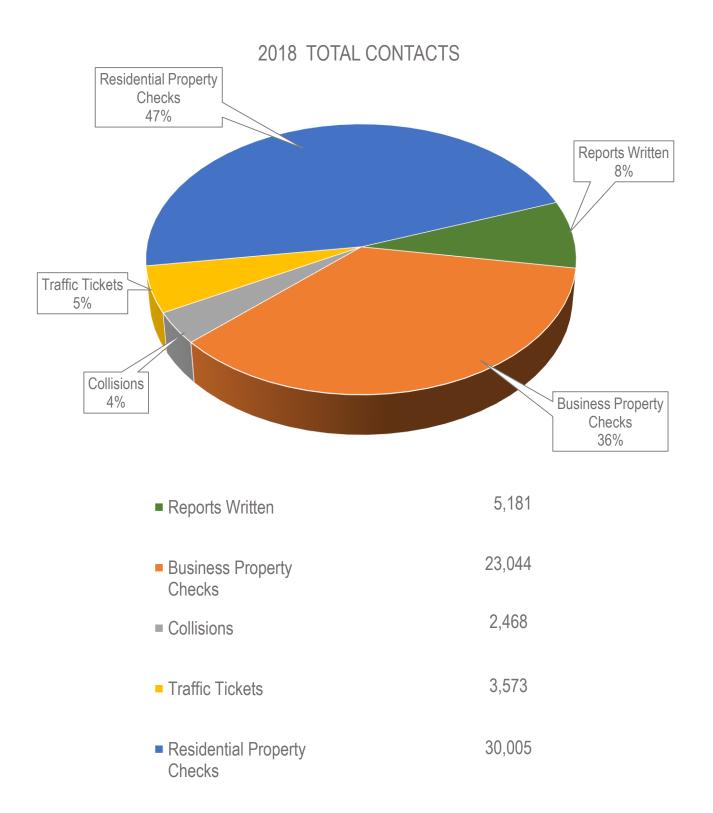

Under the command of Captain Jeffrey Jackson, the Uniform Services Division provides front-line law enforcement services 24 hours per day, 365 days a year.

Officers assigned to Uniform Services interact with the public daily, answering calls for service, working traffic accidents and conducting proactive neighborhood and business patrols.

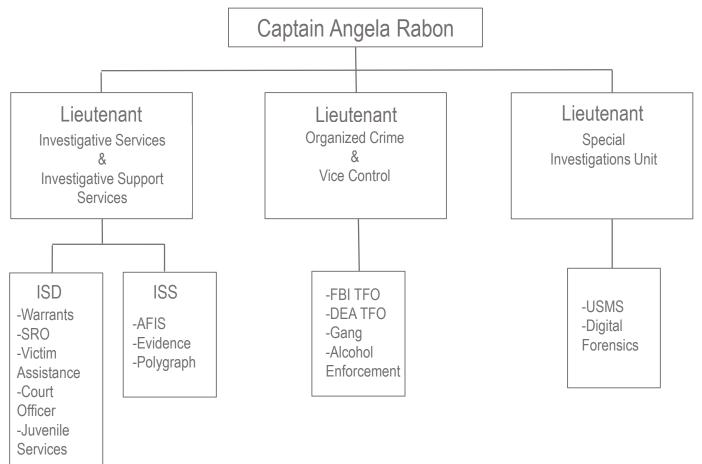

Uniform Services Division PATROL

ORGANIZATIONAL STRUCTURE

Responsible for developing information leading to the arrest of criminal offenders, Investigative Services is under the command of Captain Angela Rabon. With a total staffing level of 26, the division includes and a number of specialized units such as Organized Crime and Vice Control, Victim Services and a comprehensive Support Unit.

SUPPORT SERVICES

Providing an array of specially trained forensic support to the department, the Support Services Unit is responsible for administering pre-employment and criminal polygraphs, processing of crime scenes, and fingerprinting.

In June, the department began utilizing Live Scan, an advanced biometric technology for capturing fingerprints. The inkless, electronic means of capture allows fingerprints to be processed in a digitized format. The method reduces chances of human error and the time required for prints to be processed and authenticated.

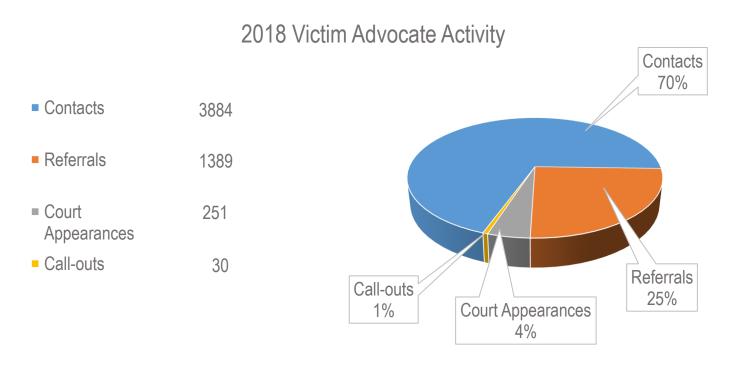

VICTIM SERVICES

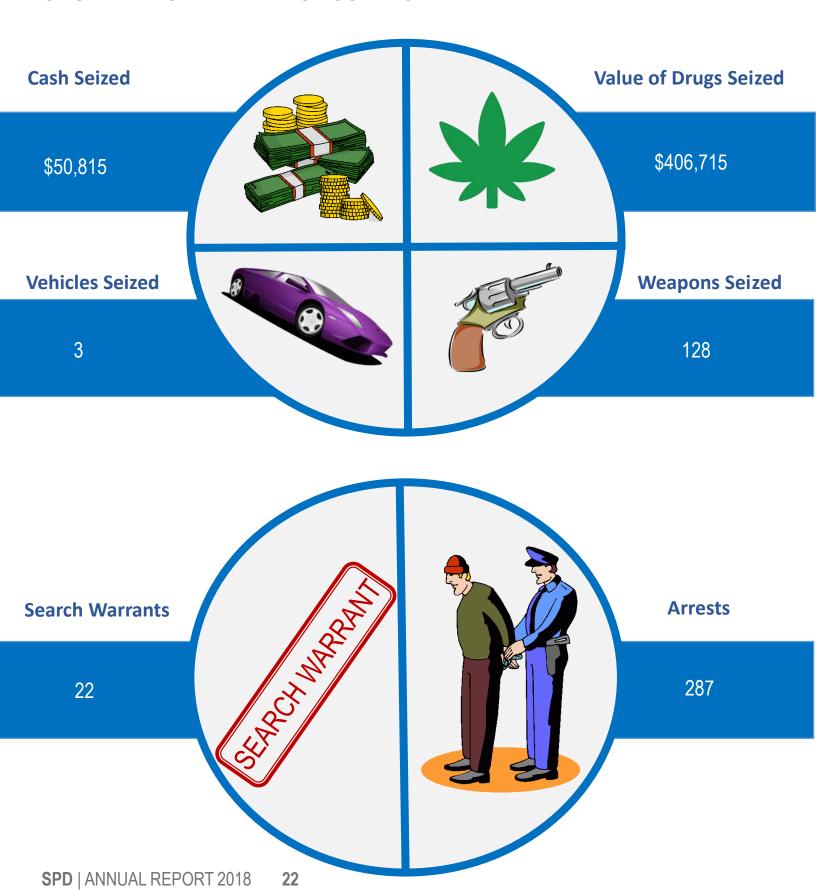

Meeting the needs of crime victims through communication, empathy and responsiveness, the Victim Services Unit provides support and assistance to all victims and witnesses of crime reported in the City of Sumter.

Trained advocates provide victimcentered systemic support to include crisis intervention, shelter assistance, court accompaniment, and referrals to outside agencies.

Support Services Division

ORGANIZATIONAL STRUCTURE

Under the command of Captain Mike Evans, Support Services is comprised of 5 units- Records Administration, Citizens Assistance Unit, Quartermaster, Recruiting, and Training. The division provides administrative support to all areas of the department.

Records Administration is staffed by 3 civilians responsible for processing and filing all incident reports, accident reports and City tickets, then transmitting the data to SLED. The Unit also conducts criminal background checks for government entities.

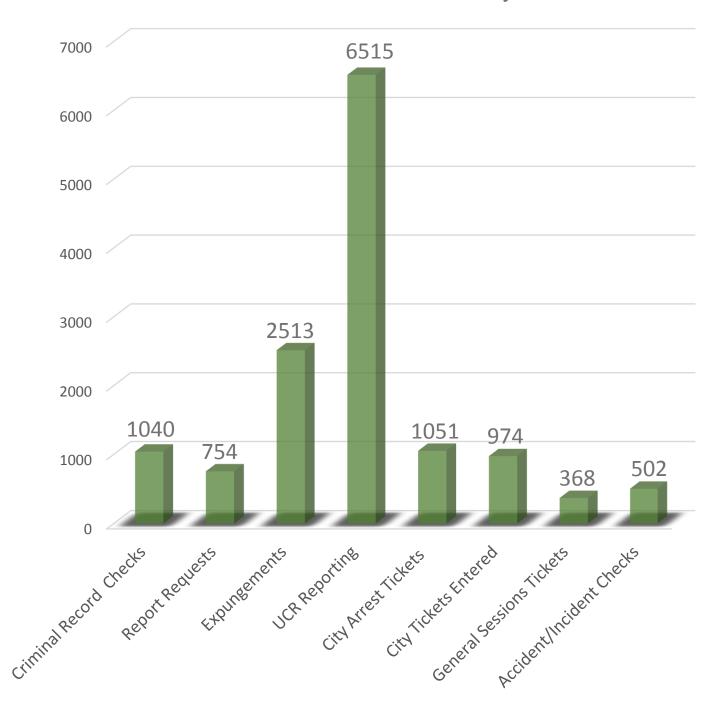

A Citizens Assistance Unit is staffed by sworn officers on weekdays from 8am-6pm. Citizens may visit the unit to file or request a copy of an incident report.

The department's Training Unit coordinates all training for sworn officers and civilian staff, and maintains records to ensure compliance with state and CALEA requirements.

Identifying and onboarding diverse officers and staff that reflect our community is a priority for the Recruiting Unit. We are proud to employ innovative strategies that promote inclusiveness not only in the department, but throughout the City of Sumter as well.

PUBLIC INFORMATION

As digital communication began to change the way we interact, receive information and investigate crime, Sumter Police Department emerged a leader in law enforcement adaptation of social media.

Today, we continue to shape important conversations by delivering timely, accurate and relevant information to our more than 21,000 Facebook followers.

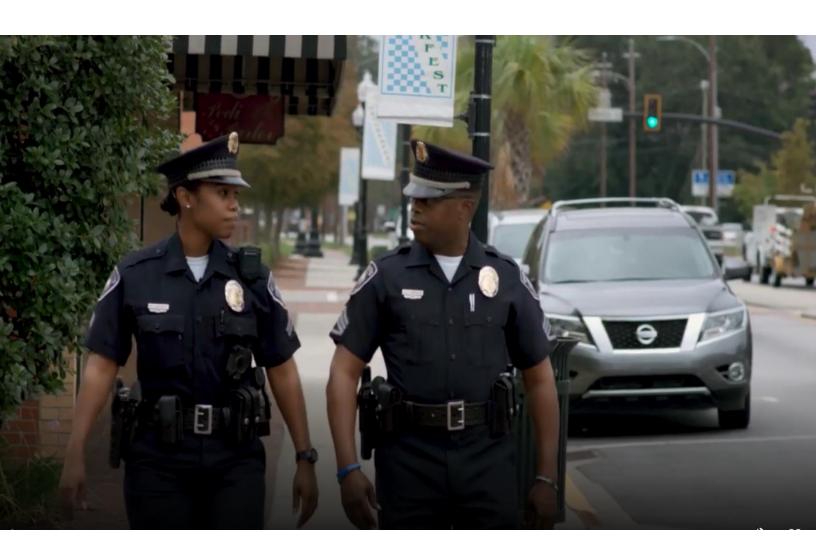

3 Year Social Media Reach

Community Services Division DOWNTOWN PATROL

Revitalization in Sumter's Central Business District continues to attract local residents and visitors to concerts, events, restaurants and shops, and the April 2018 completion of a new 93 room hotel on Main Street allows visitors the option to extend their time downtown overnight.

Safety and security of all downtown patrons is a priority. The department's Community Services Division coordinates downtown foot patrols daily and in response to special events.

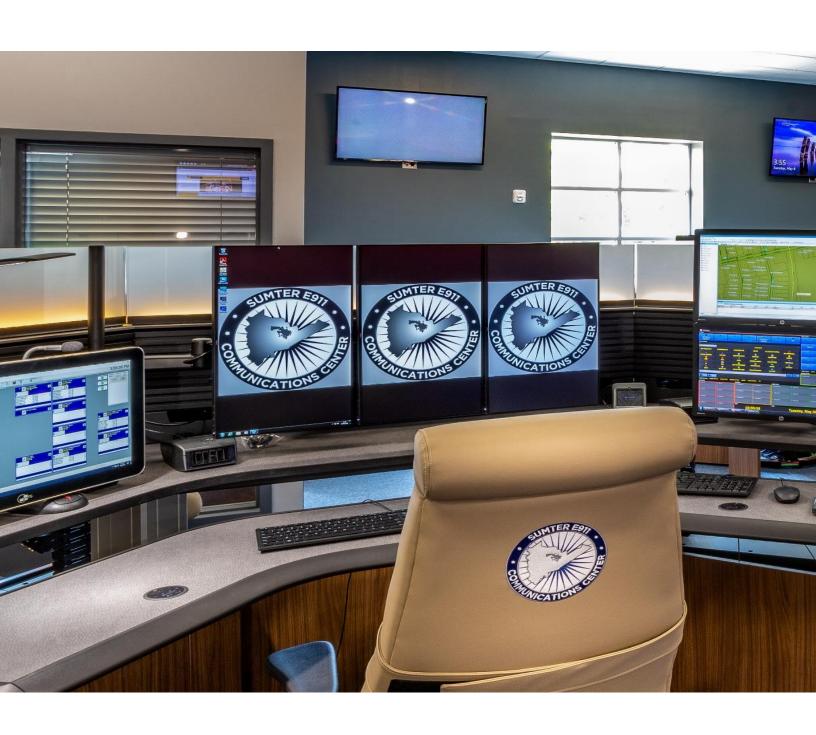

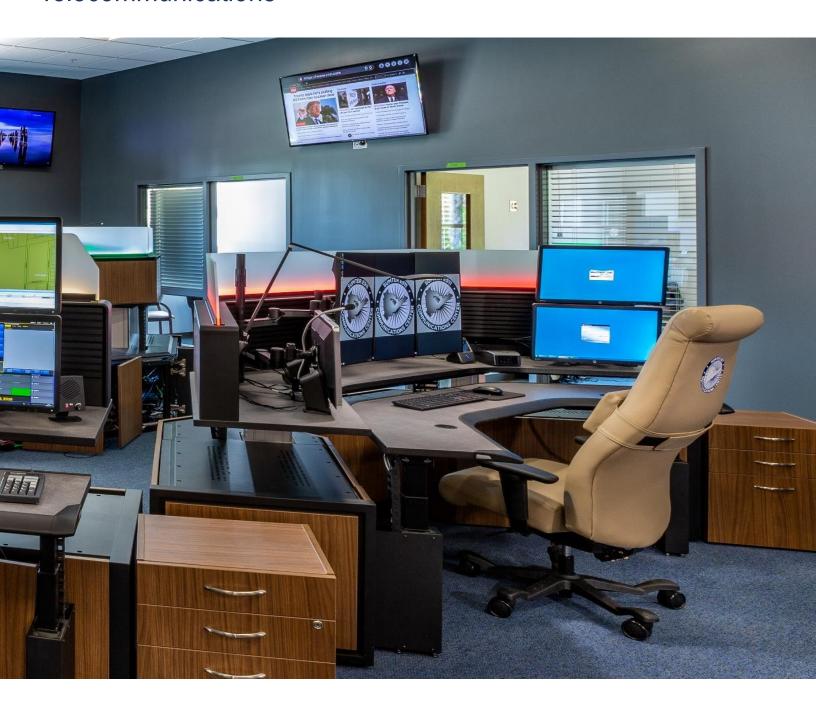

Telecommunications

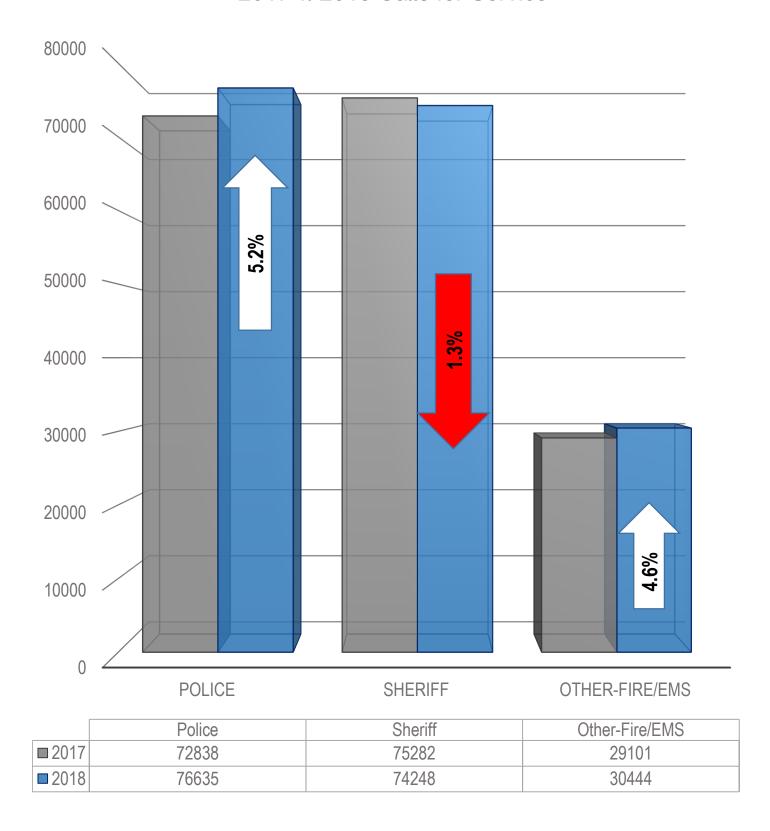

A new, state-of-the-art Telecommunications Center provides all radio transmitted communication for the Police Department, Sumter Sheriff's Office, Sumter Fire Department and Sumter County EMS. Telecommunicators utilize an enhanced 911 system to answer all emergency and non-emergency calls.

Managed by the Sumter Police Department, the center is staffed by 4 shifts, providing round-the-clock service 365 days per year.

Highlights and Milestones

The flying of the American Flag holds special meaning every day, its importance recognized each year on June 14. This year, Flag Day was even more meaningful as the ceremony commemorated the opening of our new police facility.

The U.S. flag raised at the ceremony was flown above the United States Capitol on July 6, 2017, at the request of Sen. Tim Scott. Since leaving the Capitol, the flag was flown above the Yorktown Battlefield in Virginia, then the South Carolina State Capitol, followed by the South Carolina Criminal Justice Academy and the Police Officers Hall of Fame. In October, members of Shaw Air Force Base deployed to Afghanistan raised the flag aboard an F-16 Falcon on a mission in the combat against terrorism. Upon return to the United States, the flag was flown above Shaw Air Force Base.

The flag will remain a part of the department's history and a source of pride for all who serve.

Notable Firsts

VIRTUAL ACADEMY

Advanced, professional training through Virtual Academy provides access to timely, relevant training taught by nationally recognized instructors. The online program is accessible at all times, allowing officers and staff flexibility to choose training times and schedules. Credit hours are recognized by the SC Criminal Justice Academy, offering the department significant savings in travel and overtime expenses.

"The South Carolina-based Sumter Police Department last week became the first law enforcement agency to simultaneously adopt both SIG pistols."

Officers of the Year

Lead Corporal Cameron Bryant and Patrolman Joseph Kellahan were honored as our 2018 Officers of the Year. They are credited with helping rescue and rendering aid to a mother and two children in July after the car they were in submerged in a retention pond. Both officers put their own well-being aside to rescue the family.

CALEA Re-Accreditation

In 2018, Sumter Police Department was re-accredited by the Commission on Accreditation for Law Enforcement Agencies Inc. which requires agencies to be in compliance with state-of-the-art standards in four areas: policy and procedures, administration, operations and support services to the community.

The department is assessed every three years.

Executive Staff Promotions

Major Jeffrey Jackson

Major Jeffrey Jackson joined the Sumter Police Department as a patrol officer in 1988, after serving as a commissioned officer in the United States Army. Jackson served the Patrol Division as a Sergeant and Lieutenant before being named Captain over the Uniform Services Division in 2004. During his 14 year tenure as Commander, Jackson was responsible for the Patrol, Traffic, K-9, Animal Control and School Crossing Guard units. In January 2019, he was promoted to Major of Operations, overseeing the department's delivery of services.

A native of Sumter, Major Jackson is a graduate of Sumter High School and the FBI National Academy. He holds a Bachelor of Arts degree from Morris College.

Captain Robert Singleton

A lifelong resident of Sumter, Captain Robert Singleton graduated from Sumter High School and joined the department as a Telecommunications Operator for 3 years. In 2008, he graduated from the SC Criminal Justice Academy, fulfilling his dream of becoming a police officer. Singleton worked his way through the ranks of the Patrol Division and in 2015, was selected to lead the Selective Enforcement Division. Singleton served in this capacity, overseeing unit operations for Traffic, K-9, Animal Control and School Crossing Guards, before being promoted to Captain of the Patrol Division in January, 2019.

Captain Singleton is a 2018 graduate of the Police Institute Command Officers Development Program, and is currently pursuing a Bachelor of Arts degree in Criminal Justice.

With Gratitude

8 years ago when the idea of a new Public Safety Complex was being floated about, a few people with the confidence and commitment to progressive growth sat down to share ideas and designs. From this initial stage until its completion in 2018, Warrant Officer V Gary Fowler represented the interest and needs of the Sumter Police Department. With a quiet motivation, he researched to fully understand the development and construction process, and the infrastructure needs of emergency communications and services.

Giving without expecting in return is an embedded trait in Gary Fowler. After serving our country for 22 years in the US Air Force, Fowler joined the Sumter Police Department and served in various capacities until his retirement as Captain of Support Services in 2010. Returning the same year to oversee the department's Emergency Management Division, Fowler has shepherded the City of Sumter through hurricanes, flooding, and other inclement weather events.

Designed and built to meet the 50 year space needs of the Sumter Police Department, our new facility houses the newest and most modern capabilities in law enforcement. More important however it demonstrates the selfless commitment of a servant leader, Gary Fowler.

Funding for the completion of our new Sumter Police Department was made possible by the voter-approved Penny for Progress sales tax.
